MINERS ENTOMBED IN FLOODED WORKINGS

CONFERENCE DEALS WITH QUESTIONS OF VARIED CHARACTER

Committee Reports Against Adoption of Australian Proposal for Empire Agricultural Council—Status of Citizenship in British Empire and Particular Dominions Provides Problem

LONDON, June 11 (P).—Light was shed tonight on discussion by committees of the Imperial Conference of such varied subjects as establishment of an Empire Agricultural Council and desirability of the common designation of "British subject" being applied to citizens throughout the Empire.

An official summary of the report of the committee on economic questions disclosed it had recommended against adoption of an Australian proposal for establishment of an Empire agricultural council to "meet as opportunity afforded or occasion required."

A summary of the report submitted to the full conference by the committee on constitutional questions disclosed that committee considered at great length questions "raised in regard to the relationship between the particular status of membership of any one of the individual communities forming part of the British Commonwealth."

SPEEDY DEATH FOLLOWS TRIAL

Eight High Officers of Soviet Army Have Doom Pronounced by Court

MOSCOW, June 12 (P).—Eight of the highest officers of the Soviet army early today were sentenced to death for treason by the Supreme Court of the Soviet Union.

The court's military tribunal, acting swiftly and secretly, first deprived the eight, one marshal and seven generals, of their military rank.

They were tried on charges of aiding the military establishment of a foreign nation "unfriendly" to Russia. It was announced all had confessed their guilt.

SUMMARY EXECUTION
The law under which they were tried provides that they must be executed within twenty-four hours of conviction and denies them the right to appeal.

The trial was conducted behind closed doors. The recent reshuffling of the Red army's high command had told of momentous events to come, but the sudden denunciation burst like a bombshell on all but the capital's most inner circles.

All eight convicted generals were said to have been implicated in the treason plot, which resulted in the arrest of the late Marshal I. B. Garmark, officially described as having committed suicide while awaiting trial.

GIVEN FUNDS TO TAKE WORLD TOUR

Troublesome Chinese War Lord Allowed $300,000 for Traveling Expenses and Ready Cash

NANKING, China, June 11 (P).—China's Treasury gave a million dollars (Mex.) today to General Yang Hu-Chen, erstwhile co-leader of the slanting mutiny in which Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek was kidnapped, and told him to take himself a trip around the world.

He will sail on June 29 aboard the liner President Hoover toward Los Angeles with a commission from Chiang to "investigate military and economic conditions in the United States and Europe," well-informed persons said.

The money (about $300,000 in Canadian currency) is for "traveling expenses and pocket money."

Such tours are the usual means of giving the nation a vacation from fallen war lords or defeated rebels.

Recommend Subsidy for British Ships

LONDON, June 11 (P).—The shipping committee of the Imperial Conference was understood tonight to have recommended a subsidy for British shipping in the Pacific to enable it to meet United States competition.

The chief point of the committee's report, approved by the conference this morning, informed sources said, was the amount of money recommended to be subscribed by the Empire Governments concerned.

This question is said to have been the subject of lively debate among committee members.

Head of Bureau of Investigation's New York Office Decides Mrs. Parsons' Disappearance Is Kidnapping—Police Withdraw From Estate

STONY BROOK, N.Y., June 11 (P).—Wealthy relatives of the missing Alice McDonnell Parsons marshalled their resources tonight in a tense game of wits with an unseen adversary—the authors of a $25,000 ransom demand.

Washington Senator Says Steps Will Have to Be Taken to Inhibit Trade Reprisals if State Department Unable to Assure Protection for Fishermen Against Japanese Boats

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P).—The United States State Department received today another protest from a member of the Pacific Northwest Congressional delegation against a reported invasion of North Pacific fishing banks by the Japanese.

ASKED TO SIGN UNITY PLEDGES

Douglas Ready to Take Lead If Social Crediters End Party Split

EDMONTON, June 11 (P).—Members of the Alberta Legislature, Opposition as well as Government, were asked today to sign pledges uniting them in a concerted drive toward the introduction of Social Credit monetary theories.

In an effort to seal the ranks of the Social Credit party, which has been split wide open for months, the pledges were distributed at a Government caucus and mailed to Opposition members. The pledges would bind members to stand behind the Social Credit planning board of the Legislature and its technicians. They would bind members to avoid "recriminations of the past and provocative utterances in the future."

The party ranks would be united only if 60 per cent of the members of the Legislature signed pledges, but members of the Social Credit Board said they were confident this quota would be exceeded.

UNITY IS DEMANDED

Glen Macleachlan (S.C., Coronation), chairman of the board, announced tonight that Major C. H. Douglas, the Scottish engineer who first propounded Social Credit theories, was ready to become technical adviser to the board when unity existed in the party ranks.

One of Douglas' lieutenants, G. F. Powell, arrived here yesterday, and another is expected shortly. He will make no decision until they report to him.

The effect of the plea for unity was not immediately apparent, because insurgent members would not announce whether they would sign. They have until Monday morning to make up their minds, when another caucus will be held, a few hours before the House meets again.

Three Miners Dead; Two Rescued After Ten Hours' Pumping

First Session of Nineteenth House Begins in October

BRITISH Columbia's Nineteenth Legislature will commence the labors of its first session towards the end of October, Premier Pattullo announced yesterday, after an initial Cabinet meeting at which seven re-elected ministers sat down to a new four-year term. Gordon S. Wismer, K.C., slated for the Attorney-General's portfolio after June 30, will take his place later in executive council discussions.

WILL STUDY HEALTH PLAN

Government Will Make No Move on Levies at Present, Premier States

No effort will be made by the Government to precipitate health insurance levies in British Columbia until such time as a complete new scheme has been worked out, Premier Pattullo intimated yesterday after the first post-election meeting of his Cabinet.

"We are starting reconsideration of health insurance entirely afresh. There is no intention of levying now nor in the immediate future, and the present act on the statute books remains inoperative. On the other hand, we are not prepared to say what we will do until very careful consideration has been given to the whole question," the Premier said.

The Premier's declaration made it clear that the Government is not going to use the existing Health Insurance Act to build up a reserve fund from insurance contributions, before actual benefits under any new plan commence.

The Province takes the position that the act remains in a state of suspense, until either it is repealed or revised to fit the conditions of a new scheme. What that scheme will be, however, has not as yet been suggested.

Bus Drivers Threaten to Renew Strike

LONDON, June 11 (P).—London's 25,000 busmen, who staged a walkout only two weeks ago, tonight were threatening to renew their strike.

The bus union protested to the London Transport Board it had been "lightening up" on the workers since they returned to their buses and threatened to call a new strike if causes of complaint were not removed. It also charged the board was interfering with union activities.

The busmen ended their walkout on May 28, pending negotiation of a new agreement, which still is under discussion.

Fixed Value Put On Strawberries

OTTAWA, June 11 (P).—Effective yesterday the fixed value for duty on imported strawberries will apply to importation into the provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia, the Department of National Revenue announced today. Previously the value applied only to importations into other parts of Canada.

Sudden Inrush of Water Catches Five Men Working in Beban Coal Mine at Extension—Flood Sweeps Into Slope When Wall Next Old Workings Crumbles

Shouts for Help Heard While Fifty Men Labor With Pumps

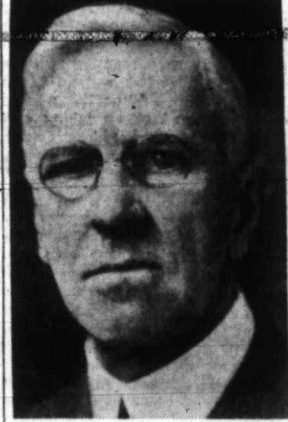

NANAIMO, June 12 (P).—Two Nanaimo miners lay on narrow hospital cots here today, apparently little the worse for their ten-hour imprisonment last night in the flooded Beban coal mine at Extension, seven miles south of here, where three of their companions perished.

Toil-weary rescuers, fifty of them, fought their way to Louis Pognello and John Senini through murky water slowly receding, as two machine pumps tossed 12,000 gallons an hour from the small workings and brought them to medical attention.

The bodies of Nelson Shepherd and his nephew, Joseph Shepherd, were brought to the surface early this morning, as the rising crosscut on which they sought refuge unsuccessfully, was drained.

Joseph Carr, a Slavonian, was still unreported, but rescuers had given up hope that he could be alive. They believed he was trapped in the bottom of the vertical V-shaped workings, when the mine wall crumbled to let in thousands of tons of stagnant water from the adjoining slopes of now-abandoned Extension mine.

She took off from Gao, French West Africa, at 6:15 a.m. Greenwich mean time (1:15 a.m., E.S.T.) and arrived here after a flight of six hours and forty minutes. She did not disclose when she planned to leave.

Busy Time Ahead for Provincial Cabinet States T. D. Pattullo

Health Insurance, Market Control, Better Terms, Yukon Negotiations and Coal Report Factors in Busy Summer Agenda—Cabinet Meets

"WE will have plenty to do," Premier Pattullo commented yesterday as his ministry reassembled in the city after the election which gave his administration another four years certain lease of life. The Premier sketched out five major issues facing his Government between now and the time the Legislature meets in October, health insurance, market control, the Yukon negotiations, better terms, and consideration of the expected report on coal and oil operations.

On health insurance the Premier indicated his government would make a cautious approach to the subject afresh, with reconsideration of the whole scheme, in the light of the electors' expression at the polls, and with the experience of an initial bill to help in the preparation and presentation of subsequent legislation expected at the Fall session.

DOES NOT KNOW WHAT HAPPENED

Survivor of Mine Accident Gives Own Story of Entombment

By JOHN BENTIN
Written for the Canadian Press
I don't know myself what happened.

How could I? I had no time to move.

I was pushed up every place against the timbers by the water. I don't know where the water came from. I just heard a rumbling noise and the water hit me.

I don't know whether I was hurt. I'm all sore. I see my leg all scratched, but I feel fine.

I've been in lots of mine accidents, but I never had a narrow escape like this. We had light for a while, but I don't know how long.

WATER ABOVE WAIST
I had a watch, but the water was up above my waist. Anyway, time doesn't mean anything in a place like that.

While there was life, of course there was hope—but there was not much.

(In a cot next to him, Louis Pognello lay moaning incoherently. The attending nurse said he had chest injuries, but they were not serious. He was suffering mainly from shock.)

SAYS ROOSEVELT NOT CANDIDATE

Colonel E. M. House Declares President to Retire at End of Present Term

MANCHESTER, BY THE SEA, Mass., June 11 (P).—An assertion that President Franklin D. Roosevelt would not be a candidate for a third term came tonight from Colonel Edward Madell House, once known as the "Maker of Presidents" and the "Sphinx of Politics."

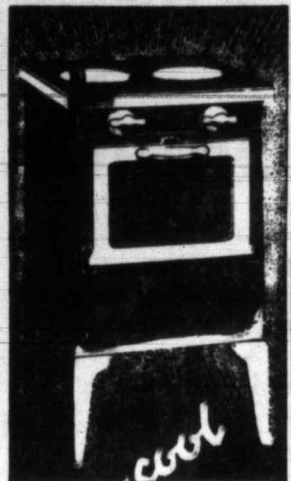

In an interview—and he rarely grants one—the diminutive, white-haired Texan suggested the President "will probably do some writing after he retires."

Asked if he thought the President would seek another term, Colonel House asserted: "Roosevelt will not be a candidate for a third term."

Starlets Appear in Clever Revue Held At Empire Theatre

Pupils of Miss Violet Fowkes Give Delightful Entertainment—Many Types of Dancing Shown in Variety of Programme Numbers

THE Violet Fowkes "Starlets" danced their merry way into the hearts of an enthusiastic audience which filled the Empire Theatre last evening, the pupils of the studio presenting an attractive programme of dances which delighted the spectators. The costumes were particularly attractive, and a great deal of thought and originality had been put into the various numbers by Miss Fowkes, resulting in a performance of what was in many instances of almost professional calibre.

The programme opened with a tuneful and spirited number, "When the Guards Are on Parade," in which Arthur Jackman, as the guardsman, sang the solo, and a chorus of dancers took part in a flag tap. Brilliant red, white and blue costumes were worn by the girls, and their flag drill was a combination of military smartness and grace.

SMALL CHILDREN

Then followed "The Shoemaker and the Elves," a fascinating presentation by a group of very small people, whose lack of self-consciousness was delightful. "A Basket of Roses" was another charming number, in which white, yellow and pink "roses" emerged from a giant basket in the centre of the stage and who were later joined by a "red rose" solo dancer.

A brilliantly clever Scottish dance, "Lochaber Swords," was performed by Evelyn Watson, Gwen Dewar, Lorna Doull and Ina Robertson, with Lillian Grant as the piper. The second number of the Scottish group was "The Blue Bonnets on the Border," in which several of the youngest pupils in their kilts showed exceptional ability and received great applause.

Dorothy Graham displayed charming coquetry and grace in her Mirror Dance; Matey Griffin appeared in an Oriental cymbal dance which was one of the more ambitious numbers of the programme, and Lois Russell was warmly applauded in her Spanish Cape dance.

"The Magic Radio" was the title of an attractive presentation in which Shirley Anderson was the little girl; Georgina Dowdall, the mother; Barbara and Joyce Kitto, the cousins; Phyllis Beschizza, the dog, whose performance, wholly pantomime, marked her as a comedian of unusual ability, and Frances Farmer was the dainty fairy. Maxine Simpson appeared in a song and tap dance, Yvonne Simpson tapped the keg with vigor; Alice less pacing, William H. Parsons announced he was "willing and anxious" to comply with any instructions from the abductors of his wife, who disappeared at Wednesday noon after driving away with an unidentified, respectable-looking couple of middle age.

"TAPOLOGY"

Part two of the programme opened with "Tapology," a 1937 edition of a tap-dancing classroom, with songs and dance steps in modern vein. Wearing a lovely costume, Shirley Anderson appeared in a Hungarian dance which was much appreciated; Phyllis Beschizza did a clever roller-skating tap and Mary Bong appeared in a Viennese waltz, her particularly graceful arm movements combined with perfect rhythm winning for her wholehearted applause. In the "Dance of the Gypsy," Gladys Harrison showed the traditional fire and exuberance which typifies this dance, and she, too, was enthusiastically applauded.

"In the Park" was a charming number in which policemen, sailors, diminutive nursemaids, skipping girls, hoop girls, dancers with beach balls and bouncing balls gave full measure of entertainment, but the honors went to the tiny "nursemaids" and to the "sailors," the latter performing the ever-popular dance as well as it could be done.

"APOLLO'S WOOLING"

Then followed the Highland Fling and the Reel O'Tulloch, and as the final number of the altogether splendid entertainment came "Apollo's Wooling," in which the charming legend was interpreted by Matey Griffin as Apollo; Lois Russell, as Aurora; Dorothy Graham, as the rain spirit; Gladys Harris, the spirit of the rainbow; Shirley Anderson, principal raindrop; Ida Lalonde, spirit of night; Marguerite Lalonde, Eileen Griffin, Elnora

NAVY WEEK TO BE HELD HERE

City Council Committee Discusses Plans for Event To Start July 23

Navy Week plans were discussed yesterday afternoon by the City Council seventy-fifth anniversary celebration committee, headed by Alderman T. W. Hawkins. H.M.S. Exeter, flagship of the British West Indies squadron, will be here from July 23 to August 2. The vessel's stay may be extended until August 4 in order that officers and crew may take part in the tattoo at Macdonald Park on August 2 and 3.

During Navy Week there will be outdoor sports, an official luncheon and ball, boat races, a football game and a smoker. Naval Veterans' Branch, Canadian Legion, is to organize several of the events. This morning Aldermen Dr. J. D. Hunter and Edward Williams will visit the Royal Canadian Naval Barracks to discuss the city's plans.

RAINS BENEFIT PRAIRIE CROPS

Most of Wheat Country Receives Moisture—Southern Drought Lands Missed

WINNIPEG, June 11 (C)—Crops in many parts of the Canadian Prairies thrived today on the benefits of good rains, although most of the southern drought lands received little or no precipitation. Alberta and West Central parts of Saskatchewan enjoyed the best rains, while the life-giving moisture missed Eastern Saskatchewan and Manitoba, where it was clear and hot. Manitoba, however, has received generous Spring rains, and crop conditions there are considered generally good. Although Alberta's dust bowl, southeast of Lethbridge, reported only scattered showers, good rains blessed a territory from 100 miles north of Calgary, northeastward to the Saskatchewan border and again southwest of Calgary to the United States boundary, 175 miles distant.

Little precipitation was reported in Southern Saskatchewan, but showers fell at Shaunavon and Assiniboia, in the worst of the arid area. Rain was fairly general from the Alberta boundary through Swift Current, as far east as Regina. Northern Saskatchewan received good falls west of Saskatoon. There was no rain east of Rosetown.

long standing contention, and the latter a new subject which may yet be linked with even more extensive changes in provincial jurisdiction within Canada. Premier Pattullo intimated the Government expected early receipt of the report of the royal commission on costs and profits in the fuel industry; and that this report might require action by the Province to implement its recommendations. The actual contents of the report are not yet known. The Premier and senior members of the Government go to Ottawa later in the Summer.

There's Fifty Years IN THE OLD HOUSE YET ...

NEW life has come to this old home. Thought, planning and the right materials have made an incredible transformation. From the old home that housed two generations, a new, sparkling modern residence has evolved. Here is effective remodelling and another fifty years of life for the new old home. How is it done?

The interior of the old house was carefully examined for possible improvement, an architect was consulted and all improvements were incorporated into a revised plan.

Note the pleasing lines of the new B.C. Red Cedar Shake roof and the effective porte cochere to the garage. Note also the pleasant softness yet substantial appearance of the side walls finished with B.C. Red Cedar Shingles.

This charming yet conclusive demonstration of the possibilities of remodelling is not surprising to those who know the worth and utility of B.C. Red Cedar as a roofing and sidewall material. The home roofed and sidewalled with Certified Red Cedar Shingles does stand up. It takes the strain of varying climatic conditions over a long period of years better than any other roofing material. And, the owner saves money with lower annual fuel bills because Certified B.C. Red Cedar Shingles provide greater insulation from cold as well as heat.

REMODEL YOUR OLD HOME under the HOME IMPROVEMENT PLAN

● WITH from 12 months to 3 years to pay under the Dominion Government Home Improvement Plan... you can easily finance... out of income... the fascinating and worthwhile job of home remodelling. ## B.C. Baiting Four Areas With Traps For Grasshoppers

WITH carefully weighed proportions of epsom salts, bran and molasses spread around William Lake, Grand Forks, Vernon and Penticton, the British Columbia Department of Agriculture set back yesterday to await the first reported death of a grasshopper. The department, working through its district agriculturalists, was not boastful, but confident. If a grasshopper succumbs to the new non-poisonous bait, the contents of its stomach may be sent to Vancouver for analysis, to clear up the actual cause of death, it was said.

Meanwhile, some economic barriers to use of the new bait developed, with reported costs of sixty-six cents per unit for the new epsom salt mixture, as against nine cents for straight arsenic poisoning. If the field tests are not wholly conclusive, laboratory experiments with captured grasshoppers may be tried as a last resort, it was unofficially intimated. The department, however, prefers to work in the open, under actual service conditions. For this reason, traps set in the British Columbia farm centres were being "closely watched for their first kill."

died today after a long illness. Mitchell designed the Schneider Trophy winner of 1931 and a new monoplane, which is believed to be the fastest military craft in the world.

PUPPY TO BE KEPT GUARDED

Judge Shandley Thinks Boston Terrier Should Have Right to Redeem Itself

Judge H. H. Shandley in County Court chambers yesterday morning, concluded that there was no necessity to destroy the young Boston terrier belonging to John Ward which had bitten Arthur W. Watson during the progress of a frolic youths were having with the canine.

On the application for a stay of the order of the magistrate made by W. H. Bullock-Webster, counsel for the owner of the pup, the court decided that a puppy of seven months which had done as represented could not be classified as a dangerous animal. He, however, insisted that the dog must be taken care of and be kept away from children where any danger of a repetition of the offence was likely to occur until such time as the case shall come up on appeal in September.

C. L. Harrison, who appeared as city prosecutor, was present at the hearing and agreed with the ruling for a stay of the order.

TEASING OF DOG

Mr. Bullock-Webster pointed out that the police magistrate on Thursday had ordered the destruction of the dog. He reviewed the circumstances, pointing out that the boy, who had been bitten, had pretended he was a bear. The pup was only seven months old and there were all kinds of evidence that the dog was not a dangerous one, but that the incident happened as a result of the teasing of the dog. Mr. Harrison said the magistrate did not find the dog a dangerous one. He had found it dangerous to be allowed to play with children and required the confining of the dog so it would not again get into trouble.

Judge Shandley considered that the pup was not of an age to be regarded as trained yet. He ruled the dog must be kept from running loose and children should be kept away from it. It must be taken care of for if any other damage were done, the matter would be dealt with drastically.

PERMISSION
IS GRANTEDCanadian and U.S. Governments Grant Request of Soviet Aviator

WASHINGTON, June 11 (P).—The United States State Department announced today it has granted a request of the Russian Embassy for a Soviet aviator to fly over United States territory.

This indicated the Moscow Government expected soon to try another flight from the Soviet capital to San Francisco via the North Pole—a venture which failed in 1935 because of mechanical difficulties encountered by Pilot Sigmund Levanevsky.

State Department officials would give no further information, beyond asserting the formal permit did not specify the date, starting point or destination of the proposed flight.

They said detailed information must come from Moscow.

The Soviet Embassy here pressed to have no information concerning the project.

OTTAWA AGREES
OTTAWA, June 11 (P).—The request of Russian authorities for permission for a Soviet aviator to fly over Canadian territory in course of a non-stop flight from Moscow to San Francisco has been received and granted by the Canadian Government, it was said here today.

Two years ago a similar request was made in connection with the unsuccessful attempt of a Russian aviator.

Canadian aviation facilities will be placed at the disposal of the Russians, who contemplate a course over the North Pole.

Adventurer Will Cruise World in
Home-Made CraftSHELTON, Wash., June 11 (P).—George Cousins, sixty-eight, said today he hoped to make a world cruise in his 37½-foot boat, Patience, launched last night after he spent four years building it from material gathered by hand.

Cousins said he made the craft alone, dragging logs from the forest with block and tackle and forming bolts, hinges and screws from old scrap iron.

TOUR PARTIES

Later in Month

British Columbia's scenery attracts most tourists, but by ninety members of the Canadian Chemical Association, shortly to tour British Columbia in a special Canadian Pacific train from Toronto, the industrial and mining development of the Coast Province will be closely inspected along with mountains, forests, lakes and rivers.

The chemists left Toronto yesterday, making several stop-overs on the way West and will reach Nelson at 7 a.m., June 15, after spending five and a half hours at Kimberley the previous night to inspect the famous Sullivan Mine. From Nelson the tourists will stop off at Bonnington to see the West Kootenay Power &amp; Light plant, June 15, and then spend a day at the Tadoussac plant of the Consolidated Mining &amp; Smelting Company, reaching

Sun Rising Over Strait of Juan de Fuca

Lighthouse-keepers must be up with the lark and other early birds, just the same as farmers. Art Gillan, assistant lightkeeper at Albert Head, thought the light tower, with the sun climbing the sky in the east behind it, the other morning, would make an interesting Kodak study, and was successful in getting a lot of early morning atmosphere through the lens.

Vancouver at 5:20 p.m., June 16, they will spend two days in the Coast city before going to Victoria at midnight, June 19.

Another tour party interested equally in British Columbia's industrial progress and scenic attractions is the Canadian Pacific All-Expense Tour No. 1 from the British Isles, due to reach Vancouver 10:30 p.m., June 19, on Train No. 1 from Banff, Lake Louise and East. "All-Expense Tours" have been conducted for many years past by the Canadian Pacific in conjunction with the British Columbia Agent-General's office in London, and the parties comprise many Old Country residents interested in British Columbia as a possible future abode or as a field for investment. There are twenty-two members in this year's party, which is being conducted by H. J. Wyatt, of the Canadian Pacific, London, office. They will leave for Victoria midnight, June 21, returning June 24 and leaving at 8:15 p.m. that day for Penticton, Nelson, Medicine Hat and East.

What Today Means

"GEMINI"
If June 12 is your birthday, the best hours for you on this date are from 9:45 to 11:45 a.m., from 2:45 to 4:45 p.m., and from 8:45 to 10:45 p.m. The danger periods are from 7:45 to 9:45 a.m., from 6:45 to 8:45 p.m., and from 10:45 p.m. until midnight.

Unless you can afford to do so financially, be careful how freely you extend invitations this day. Conditions are not favorable for people with flat pocketbooks, bent on playing the part of host. Messages are apt to go astray, due to mistakes occurring in the way of directions, instructions or the carelessness of people on the receiving end. Travelers, especially automobilists, ought to find this an auspicious day for them except in a limited section of the country where weather conditions may upset calculations. Do not let pet superstitions or omens upset you, for you are likely to discover there is nothing to them. Avoid changes in plans, if possible, for any variation from the original arrangement might result in your being disappointed. Married and engaged couples, as well as those into whose lives Cupid has unexpectedly brought love, should avoid throwing cold water on any reasonable proposal.

If a woman and June 12 is your birthday, you may be socially ambitious, loving to entertain, and have the qualification a perfect hostess should possess. You ought to be very fond of books, a lover of art and music. You believe in being loyal to your friends through fair or adverse conditions. You have, most likely, a strong dramatic instinct, and know how to make use of it advantageously. You may have an aptitude for painting, music, writing, selling or demonstrating. You probably will have no good grounds for quarrelling with Cupid over the husband he brings you.

The child born on June 12, may, during its school days, make a more than satisfactory record as a student, providing it applies itself to its studies. The one thing that might interfere is too much popularity.

If a man and June 12 is your natal day, the placing of too many irons in the fire is the principal reason why many men born on this date do not become wealthy. If you concentrate your efforts in the right direction you will succeed beyond your expectations. As a clergyman, actor, lecturer, author, manufacturer, inventor or scientist a bright future should await you.

Excited Lady (on phone): "I want my husband, please—at once." Exchange: "Number, please?" Excited Lady: "One, of course. How many husbands do you think I have?"

NEW TRAINS
ATTRACTIVESummer Rolling Stock of Canadian Pacific on Show
In Vancouver

VANCOUVER, June 11.—Two new Summer trains, No. 4 and No. 8, to be put into service from June 15 to September 15, attracted 3,000 visitors at the Canadian Pacific Railway station here, today, when they went on public display from 10:30 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Train No. 4, which will be a coach-tourist train operating from Vancouver to Toronto and Montreal, showed air-conditioned day coaches and tourist cars, with dining car and open observation car. Train No. 8, which will be an all-sleeping car train between Vancouver and Montreal, boasted a line of air-conditioned standard sleepers, an air-conditioned dining car finished in attractive blue carpets, drapes and upholstery, and air-conditioned lounge-observation car.

These latest trends in railway equipment, caught the eye of the visitors, who paid particular attention to lighter and cheerier colors in interior decoration made possible by air-conditioning and resultant sealing of the cars against dust. Meal service in coaches and dining cars, at popular prices, was demonstrated by the train crew throughout the day.

BAND CONCERT TO BE HELD IN PARK

Bandmaster James M. Miller will lead a concert by the First Battalion, Canadian Scottish Regiment Band in Beacon Hill Park at 3 o'clock Sunday afternoon.

Selections will include music from "The Gondoliers", "Amoretten Taine", "I Love You Truly" and "Just a-Wearyin' for You", written by Carrie Jacobs Bond; "In a Chinese Temple Garden", an Oriental fantasy; "A Cavalry Charge", descriptive number; "The Butterfly" and "With Sword and Lance", a quick step. There will also be cornet and piccolo solos.

WILL CARRY ON
WITH BIG PARADELoggers' Sports to Be Dropped
From Ladysmith Programme—
Will Substitute Lacrosse

LADYSMITH, June 11.—Reversed decisions and programme changes featured the meeting of the Dominion Day celebration committee here last evening. The decision to abandon the annual street parade this year because of the few who showed interest evoked a storm of public protest that brought many champions of the parade feature into last night's meeting.

The previous decision was reversed and the big parade will be held as usual this year on July 1.

Rud Battle, chairman of the sports committee, reported it seemed almost impossible to make a successful demonstration of loggers' sports. He had been advised by local lumbermen to drop the idea, as camp competition in these sports was essential, and this condition did not exist at Ladysmith. At the same time, headline competitors in chopping and sawing usually participated in the competitions in Vancouver for the B.C. championships on the same day. He recommended that box lacrosse games be substituted, and the meeting adopted the change.

FISH PRICES

Sockeye, Fixed

VANCOUVER, June 11 (P).—Prices were fixed this week for seine-caught pinks, chums, cohos, red and white springers in the three British Columbia fishing areas. Seine-caught prices this year will be:

NEW WESTMINSTER, June 11.

Decrease in tonnage during the month of May compared to the same month last year, was believed due to shipping shortage. Thirty-nine deep-sea ships visited New Westminster compared to forty-nine in May, 1936, their net registered tonnage being 136,869 against 166,683.

Exports for May showed cargo tonnage of exports 83,222 against 87,486 in 1936. Exports were as follows:

YACHTS WILL

Fleet Spending Night
At Boot Bay

There will be no sailing regatta at Cadboro Bay this afternoon. Yachtsmen of the Royal Victoria Yacht Club will cruise instead for a change.

The fleet, sail and power, will go to Boot Bay, Saturna Island, overnight, according to Secretary J. B. Acland. Under orders of Fleet Captain J. P. Dick, skipper of Jeran, the small sailing craft flying the burgee of the club will leave moorings at 2:30 p.m. and sail to Kelp Reef. There, about 5 o'clock, they will be picked up by the power craft of the club and taken in tow for the rendezvous.

The larger sailing craft will leave Cadboro Bay when convenient and proceed independently to the meeting place. Boot Bay is a lovely spot and no doubt a representative gathering of Victoria club members will follow Fleet Captain Dick to an anchorage there.

The yachts will return to Cadboro Bay Sunday evening.

Forget you never

CHAPTER XIII
Eden went out with him to his car. "I'm terribly sorry, Brad." He looked down on her. "You're crying, Eden. For me?" "For Dee, too. For her most, I think." She put her hand on his arm. "I don't know what my mother will say about this, but I know it won't change her feelings for you. You're always welcome."

"Thanks. I'll still drop around. And I— I didn't mean what I said about Dee's being the wrong girl. She's the right girl, and the only girl for me. But tonight I wished it had been you I loved, Eden." He got into the car and stepped on the starter. "I feel as if I've been dropped into a strange new world. No Dee any more. . . . It's wrong to live for one person, all wrong. . . . His eyes filled. "If making money is all that people like in you, then I'm out to make money. That'll be," he added bitterly, "the one thing I'll live for now." He tried to smile. "Don't worry about me. I'll see you. You're the only . . ."

But he didn't finish telling her that she was the only close friend he had because the ache in his throat choked him. Shivering in the wind, her hair blowing, Eden saw the familiar little coupe drive away. Dee had not moved. "Now," she said to Eden, "I suppose you'll say you're sorry you ever took me in and that I'm to pack my things and go. I couldn't be angry if you did. Everything that Brad said was true, and everything you're thinking and not saying is true, too." She took a deep, tired breath. "You may as well tell me. I've heard everything else."

"I'm not going to tell you to go because I think you are going to need your friends more now than ever before. Dee, it's your life, and I'm not the one to tell you what to do with it, or what man . . ."

"The only man I'll ever love just left, hating me," she said quietly. "All that is good in me loves Brad, Eden. The bad part, the weak part, is going to take what Charles offers."

"Is he going to marry you?" "I don't know. But I'm sure he will."

"But suppose he doesn't," Eden said gently. "I never thought of that. Oh, but he will! But if he doesn't, I'll have lost everything, won't I? I'm so mixed up. Tell me you don't hate me, and that you'll stand by me. Before there was always Brad, but no more. I know what I'm doing, but I— I can't help it."

"Sometimes we can't help being the way we are," Eden said. "You can't help loving Neil, she thought. You can't help preferring him to David in spite of everything."

Come back, Neil. I'll give you my heart if only to break when you go away. These three months I want. I'll make them last a lifetime. To Dee, she said, "You'd better get some sleep. It's very late."

"Tell your mother in the morning. I can't. Ask her not to talk about it before me." She looked up. "What will happen to Brad, Eden? When something that has filled your life has been taken away . . ."

Eden turned away. "I don't know, but nothing good, I'm afraid. He said he was going to put something else on a pedestal to worship— money."

DEATH CALLS DR. RUSSELL

Pioneer Victoria Dentist Was Ardent Worker in Baptist Cause in B.C.

Dr. William Russell, aged sixty-two years, pioneer Victoria dentist and ardent supporter of the Baptist Church, passed away yesterday afternoon at the family residence, 2642 Fernwood Road, following a long illness.

Born in Glasgow, Scotland, Dr. Russell came to Victoria when only a year old and resided here for sixty-one years. He was a highly respected citizen, and his friends were many because of his human sympathies, broad understanding and generosity of spirit. News of his passing will be received with sincere regret by a wide circle of acquaintances.

HONORED WITH STATE FUNERAL

Sir Robert Borden Will Be Laid to Rest in Capital Today

OTTAWA, June 11 (C)—Not since the death of Sir Arthur Currie, former commander of the Canadian corps, has a state funeral been accorded in this country. Tomorrow national honors will accompany the interment of Sir Robert Borden, whose death took place yesterday at the age of eighty-two.

Where the predominant note in the funeral of Sir Arthur Currie was military, however, as befitting the services he had given the state in wartime, that at tomorrow's obsequies will be of a civilian character.

No lengthy cortege of soldiers will accompany the body of the statesman to Beechwood Cemetery. In their place will be Parliamentarians, representatives of the judiciary, of foreign embassies and consulates, public officials and the citizens of Canada generally.

OPENED DENTAL OFFICES

On returning to Victoria, Dr. Russell opened dental offices in 1906 in premises at the northwest corner of Douglas and Yates Streets, and a few years later moved his offices to the Bank of Toronto Building, where he practiced for twenty years. More than two years ago he suffered a severe illness which necessitated his retirement from practice.

From June until the middle of October in 1934, Dr. Russell visited Great Britain and Europe, and while in Germany attended the World Baptist Congress at Berlin.

Since 1921, when he retired from the presidency of the Victoria Dental Association, Dr. Russell had been secretary of the association, and was a member of the Dominion Dental Council. From 1917 to 1932 he was on the British Columbia Dental Council.

IN BAPTIST WORK

Dr. Russell was an active church worker, being a member of the board of deacons and former assistant Sunday school superintendent of Emmanuel Baptist Church. He was a past president of both the British Columbia Baptist Convention and the Vancouver Island Baptist Association.

ASSOCIATION HAS NEW SECRETARY

T. Miller, late of the Seaford Highlanders, was appointed secretary of the Imperial Veterans' Association at a recent meeting. He will be in attendance at Room 225 Pemberton Building, each Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening from 8 to 9 o'clock, for the purpose of taking up cases of a pension, hospitalization, or social welfare nature, or any other problems confronting ex-imperialists.

On June 24 a social evening for members and friends will be held at a place to be announced later. A protest was registered with the Civil Service Commission at Ottawa by the association, against the severity of the Civil Service examinations which ex-service-men have to write before getting positions. It was pointed out that it is many years since these men completed their education and the examinations have no bearing upon the positions for which they are held.

Remedy Against Ants—Responding to requests by campers bothered with ants in summer homes, William Downes, Dominion entomologist, yesterday announced three ways of killing ants if they reach the proportions of a pest. Boiling water, sodium fluoride powder, and syrup of arsenate, he said, would each serve the purpose. The arsenate is poisonous, and should be made up by a druggist, being effective in relatively weak solutions.

Many Interested in City—A recent check of 1,035 inquiries received in two days by the Canadian Travel Bureau show approximately 15 per cent concerned Victoria. The number of people interested in this city and Vancouver Island is about twice as great as last year. Ten persons asked for information on fishing, fifty-three asked information regarding this city and the Evergreen Playground.

Epidemic Traced—The manner in which one person may infect a community with contagious disease was described at a recent meeting of the Sancho health committee by Dr. David Berman, medical health officer. The recent epidemic of measles, which reached its peak in April, could be traced to one girl who attended classes three days before it was discovered she was ill, he said. This month only fifteen cases have been reported, and these are mainly confined to Prospect Lake area. Dr. Berman stressed the value of serum, and declared children so treated could play with those infected and not get the disease.

Forest Camps Closed—Twenty-one forestry camps were closed by the Province last week, their inmates being carried now on deferred pay, which was withheld over the last two or three months. Arrangements to reopen the forestry training camps, as distinct from the forestry relief camps, are being considered, without final decision as yet, it was learned yesterday at the Legislative Buildings. Approximately 2,000 men had been cared for in the forestry relief camps over Winter months. Many of these, it is now expected, will be able to secure employment, while others may have to be reabsorbed into road and other works.

Nations." No concrete recommendations were made.

COUNCIL SUGGESTED
The Australian proposal for an Imperial Economic Committee, suggested by the council of Dominion and colonial ministers concerned with agriculture meet "as opportunity afforded or occasion required between Imperial Conferences . . . to provide more frequent opportunities for joint examination of agricultural questions."

The general feeling of the committee was that the Imperial Economic Committee, for whose work there was general praise, could handle most of the problems which might come before the proposed agricultural council.

The report recommended that the Imperial Economic Committee be continued on the existing basis and that its working fund be increased $2,000 to $22,000 ($108,600).

CURIOUS PROBLEMS
Curious problems of nationality are discussed in a report on constitutional questions adopted today by the Imperial Conference.

South Africa raised the point: what is a British subject? What is the relationship between the common status of a British subject and the particular status of citizenship in one of the Dominions. Puzzled experts considered the problem in a special committee headed by Hon. Ernest Lapointe, Canadian Minister of Justice.

The report of the committee observes no one suggested any change in the common status of a British subject, a term which the report describes as "one of long standing and denoting generally all subjects of His Majesty, to whatever part of the British Commonwealth they belong."

PARTICULAR CONNECTION
But British subjects not only have a common status. They have a particular connection with one or other members of the British Commonwealth.

The suggestion is made that difficulties could be overcome by each member of the Commonwealth undertaking to introduce legislation defining its nationals or citizens. But some members of the Commonwealth are not disposed to introduce such legislation.

It is pointed out the wide differences existing between the large number of separate territories and races for which the United Kingdom is responsible would render impracticable adoption by the United Kingdom of any single classification.

"Moreover," the report adds, "it is the practice of the United Kingdom to make no distinction between the different classes of British subjects as regards the grant of civil and political rights, or the right of entry into and residence in the United Kingdom."

FOR INDIVIDUAL DECISION
The report finally lays down that

It is for each member of the Commonwealth to decide what persons have with it that definite connection which would enable it to recognize them as members of its community. Each member of the Commonwealth would, in normal course, include as members of its community:

(A) Persons who were born in or became British subjects by naturalization in or as a result of annexation of its territory and still reside there, and

(B) Persons who, coming as British subjects from other parts of the Commonwealth have identified themselves with the community to which they come.

EACH TO PRESCRIBE
With regard to those mentioned in paragraph (B) it is "for each member to prescribe conditions under which any British subject coming from another part of the Commonwealth would be considered to have identified himself with the new community to which he resorted as to become a member thereof."

With regard to a migrant referred to in paragraph (B)—the "member from which he came might wish to declare an interest in the conditions under which the member to which he went might claim to be entitled to regard him as a member of its community . . ."

"It is recommended that any member contemplating passing a law on the membership of its community should submit its proposals to other members of the Commonwealth so as to enable them to offer observations if they so feel inclined."

POSSIBLE PROBLEM
In the event of a member desiring to pass new legislation dealing with nationality or citizenship, the report proceeds, it might be faced with the problem of how to deal with those British subjects not born in, but at the moment residing in, its territory. One solution of this problem, it is suggested, would be to provide for inclusion of all such persons, coupled with the right of those not wishing to become nationals or citizens to make their choice known.

Revisions Would Mean Better Terms for B.C.

"Better Terms for British Columbia" was the subject chosen by Ald. W. T. Straith for an address before the Liberal Women's Forum yesterday afternoon at Liberal headquarters, Mrs. J. S. Akins, the president, in the chair. Alderman Straith prefaced his address by thanking the women for the part they had played in the success of the party at the recent election. He spoke of the principal differences in the policies of the Liberal and Conservative parties, chief among these being the attitude towards social legislation.

People were naturally hesitant about changing the British North America Act, which had served the country since Confederation days, he said. However, with the passing of the years difficulties had arisen in connection with legislative powers and the collection of revenue, which had created serious problems.

WANTS DUE

Since 1867, the Dominion Government has collected $441,000,000 in revenue from this province, Alderman Straith said, and in return British Columbia had received only $30,000,000. It was not in a spirit of complaint that British Columbia was asking for what justly belonged to her. Several matters were not contemplated when the British North America Act was passed, the speaker continued, such as responsibilities for relief costs, which problem had only arisen in the last decade. The distribution of this burden would have to be equitably arranged so that the major portion of it should not rest upon the municipalities.

PROVES CLAIM

"British Columbia has already proved her claim for better terms as was shown by the grant by the Bennett Government for $70,050 per annum," Alderman Straith declared. This was not considered a final remedy of the situation, but the commission about to be appointed to investigate this matter would finally decide upon the proper claim which the province has on the Dominion.

PER CAPITA GRANT

Drastic changes in the British North America Act were not advisable, but change was required, was the opinion of the speaker, and this was especially true regarding the per capita grant and the years it covers. In British Columbia the grant per capita was changed only every ten years, while in the Prairie provinces changes were made every two and a-half years "and this is one of our pleas for better terms," Alderman Straith said, in conclusion.

Mrs. J. L. White, on behalf of the Forum, moved the vote of thanks to the speaker.

Mrs. McCahill sang two delightful solos, "The World Is Waiting for the Sunrise" and "Little Irish Girl." Mrs. Bertucci was the accompanist. Tea was served after the meeting. Mrs. G. Wise and Mrs. Charles McLean presided at the table and the tea arrangements were in charge of Ward Five, with Mrs. Moffitt as convener.

Old Pupils' Dance Draws Jolly Crowd

Amid the gay decorations in the school gymnasium of Norfolk House School, about one hundred guests thoroughly enjoyed the dance arranged by the Old Girls' Association last night. Coronation colors of red, blue and gold were carried out in the decorations, flags, banners and bunting along with lovely delphiniums, peonies and marguerites being used most effectively.

A three-piece orchestra, led by one of Victoria's most popular conductors, played for dancing until 1 o'clock this morning. Many old-time favorites were enjoyed, and the medleys and other informal dances added to the gaiety of the evening. Quantities of vari-colored balloons suspended from the ceiling were released during the dancing. A buffet supper was served in the dining-room, the table being centred with an artistic bowl of flowers and flanked by yellow tapers.

A feature on the programme was the graceful ballet-dance by Phyllis Addison, wearing a long white ballet costume. She was accompanied at the piano by Miss Virginia Ryan, and was enthusiastically received.

Miss Margaret Izard was the general convener of the dance, and the committee assisting her included Misses Valentine Harlock, Monica Robbins, Primy Adamson and Peggy Gairard. The proceeds from the dance will be used to purchase gymnasium equipment which is needed at the school.

Miss Parker Is Bride of Mr. C. Lewis

Rev. Canon Stocken solemnized the marriage of Eunice Lorna, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. E. Parker, 384 Gorge Road West, and Mr. Charles Lewis, elder son of Mrs. A. Lewis, 201 Ontario Street, which took place yesterday afternoon at 2 o'clock in St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church in a lovely setting of mauve and pink flowers.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride made a pretty picture as she walked up the aisle to the strains of the wedding march played by Mrs. W. Gilbert, in her floor-length gown of ivory satin, with a small train and flowing veil of silk net worn beneath a wreath of orange blossoms. She carried a shower-bouquet of pink and white carnations, roses and swarsonia.

Miss Tora Parker was her sister's bridesmaid, in a picturesque frock of deep blue organdie, fashioned on princess lines and worn with a matching hat, who carried a bouquet of pink carnations and snapdragons and blue iris. Mr. William Lewis attended his brother, and Mr. Fred Parker and Mr. Frank Kennedy were ushers.

WEDDING RECEPTION

A small reception was held later at the home of the bride's parents, where masses of pink and white flowers were arranged with charming effect throughout the house, during which the bride and groom stood beneath a floral archway. Vases of roses adorned the tea table which was centred with the wedding cake. Mrs. Parker had chosen a Wedgewood blue two-piece frock and a matching hat for the occasion, and Mrs. Lewis, Sr., an amethyst shaded knitted frock with black accessories, and they both wore shoulder sprays of roses and carnations.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis left by the afternoon boat for Seattle, and will live in Victoria on their return. The bride went away in a yellow hand-knitted suit with white accessories.

SPECIAL GIFTS

Among the gifts were a dinner set presented to the bride from the staff of Digdon-Hibben, Ltd., a silver entree dish from the Sunday school teachers of St. Martin's-in-the-Fields Church and a cut-glass bowl from the City Temple Young People, of which the bridegroom is a member.

New Westminster Wedding Attracts Large Gathering

Miss Marion Isabella Bowles, Victoria, Becomes Bride of Rev. S. J. Sharkey in Groom's Own Church—Presentation From Congregation

The marriage of Marion Isabella, elder daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank W. Bowles, 1790 Chandler Avenue, Victoria, to Rev. Sidney James Sharkey, B.A., B.D., younger son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Sharkey, Montreal, who was recently inducted as pastor of St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, New Westminster, was solemnized on Tuesday in St. Andrew's Presbyterian Church, New Westminster.

The celebration was made a congregational wedding, for which the church was beautifully decorated by the Young People's Society. A profusion of early summer blooms, carried out in a color scheme of white and pink, solidly banked the pulpit and choir loft.

The radiant bride was given in marriage by her father, and her bridal gown was of ivory Nottingham lace over ivory satin, with matching coat and court train. A Mary Stuart cap of lace edged with pearls, and caught at the back with white velvet gardenias, from which hung a full three-quarter length tulle cape, completed the costume. She carried a beautiful shower bouquet of pink Ophelia roses, white ferns and carnations with feathery stems.

PRETTY FROCKS

Miss Eileen Bowles, sister of the bride, and attired in forget-me-not blue tulle, with a coronet of braided tulle, topped with a cluster of matching gardenias, set in a misty veil, attended as bridesmaid, as also her cousin, Miss Gloria Bowles, Vancouver, similarly attired in apricot tulle. Both bridesmaids carried shower bouquets of pink carnations, blue iris and feathery fern. Little Miss Jean Mary Fulton, New Westminster, sweetly attired in pale green organdie and carrying a basket of pink carnations and maiden-hair fern, acted as flower girl.

Mr. James Gunn, New Westminster, attended the groom, while Messrs. Ronald and James Manning, also of New Westminster, were the ushers.

Rev. R. C. Creelman, of West Point Grey Presbyterian Church, Vancouver, read the service, during which the organist, Mr. Bert King, softly played at the organ, and at the conclusion of which the choir sang the hymn "O Perfect Love." During the signing of the register, Mr. Harvey McRoberts, Vancouver, cousin of the bride, sang "Because."

LARGE RECEPTION

At the conclusion of the ceremony, a reception was held in St. Andrew's Church Hall, which was decorated in the same predominating color scheme as chosen for the church. Mrs. Bowles, mother of the bride, attired in a flowered chiffon frock in orchid shades with matching hat and corsage bouquet of shaded mauve sweet peas and yellow Ophelia roses, was assisted in receiving the guests and the congregation by Mrs. R. C. Creelman, Vancouver, who chose a yellow tulle gown with accessories in the same tone.

Mr. MacDonald, senior elder, acted as the congregational host, and also on behalf of St. Andrew's Church presented the bride and groom with a beautiful Westminster Chime clock handsomely engraved.

Presiding at the tea and coffee urns were Mrs. C. L. Bowles, Mrs. E. D. McRoberts, Mrs. F. A. Francis, Mrs. P. H. Holland and Mrs. R. C. Creelman, all of Vancouver, and Mrs. Sadie Proates, New Westminster, while a charming bevy of young ladies of the congregation served.

During the reception, Miss Eileen Bowles, sister of the bride, and Mr. Harvey McRoberts sang. Rev. R. C. Creelman proposed the toast to the bride and groom.

The bride chose for her going-away costume a black tricot suit, with white accessories and colonial bouquet, over which she wore an imported coat, princess style, with black Persian leather trimmings.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey will take up residence at Queen's Court, New Westminster.

has been replaced, provincial circles

Norman W. Whittaker, K.C., M.P.P.-elect, is one of the senior Liberals in support of the present administration, and has represented Saanich since 1933. A prominent barrister of this city, Mr. Whittaker has been chairman of the municipal committees of the Legislature and also took command of the agricultural marketing investigation at the last session of Eighteenth Assembly.

The Government gets two strings to its bow by the exchange; rewarding Mr. Whittaker, who was mentioned at one time for the Attorney-Generalship, and returning Mr. Perry to the floor of the House, where he at once becomes perhaps an outstanding debater on the right of the dais, in a Legislature where oratorical seasoning may be of much service to the ministry.

Honored by Friends

Miss Alice Kershaw, a bride-to-be, was honored—last evening when Misses Lois Macmurchie and Patricia Van Norman entertained for her at a miscellaneous shower given at the home of Mrs. Macmurchie, Cook Street.

The reception rooms were lovely with masses of summer blooms in shades of pink, green and yellow. Miss Kershaw, who is a talented musician, was the soloist of the evening, her performance at the piano being most impressive.

Upon their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sharkey will take up residence at Queen's Court, New Westminster. The bride-to-be was discovered a tiny bride couple under the piano-lid and also the many pretty gifts concealed within. The supper table, was attractive with its centerpiece of aquilegia in a cut-glass vase, lighted by yellow candles in matching holders. Those present were Mrs. J. Kershaw, Mrs. A. Page, Mrs. W. ## Sonya Slavina Presents Pupils in Dance Recital

Popular Directress of Russian School of Dance Here Stages Group of Clever Artists in Revue at Crystal Garden

Manifesting a deep understanding of the dance, as a means of expressing the emotional instinct that has characterized the people of a race from the earliest times to the present, pupils of Miss Sonya Slavina interpreted a series of cleverly arranged numbers before a large audience at the Crystal Garden here last night. It was her annual revue and presentation of a well-trained group of young people to conclude the 1936-37 season of the Russian School of Dance.

The programme constituted a generous assortment of entertainment features and the manner in which the groups and individual artists carried them out was ample testimony of the careful training they had received under the direction of Miss Slavina. There was plenty of rhythm, so much in demand for present-day entertainment, a little bit of the classic and some ultra-modern pieces and the whole collection fitted nicely into a well-balanced programme.

GROUPED NUMBERS

Miss Slavina was assisted by a group of guest artists, consisting of Ron Heater's Hawaiian Orchestra in a piece that carried the Hawaiian atmosphere; Olive Batchelor, vocalist, and Myra Batchelor, dancer, who executed a number of Hawaiian character dances. The group numbers were very nicely arranged and included a children's ball, in miniature; the doll shop and Peter Rabbit, which gave the younger members of the school an opportunity to exhibit their talents. The whole programme consisted of thirty-five numbers and the audience enthusiastically applauded each one. Following the recital, floral bouquets were showered upon Miss Slavina and members of the school.

THE PROGRAMME

The complete programme follows: Jazz toe dance, Shirley Gunn; minuet, Gloria Gallop and Bob Harknett; waltz clog, Jeanette and Myrtle Chan.

Lookman; tap dance, Bob Johnston; baby doll, Gloria Gallop; trucking, Theresa Leahy; Slavina's dance, Betty Baynes; rhythm wreckers, pupils of the school; tap dance, Lily Lowe and Emily Lee; "Invitation to the Dance," Shirley Gunn; Russian princess, Sonya Slavina; Irish jig, Vera Foster, Betty Garnett and Isla Bell Braddon; Hungarian dance, Alex Crouch; "When the Poppies Bloom Again," Gladys Steverman; nymph dance, Kathleen Steele; rhythm wreckers, pupils of the school; hurdle dance, Theresa Leahy and Bob Johnston; tap dance, Jeanette and Myrtle Chan; vocal solo, Mr. S. ## THREE MINERS DEAD; TWO ARE RESCUED

D. L. Giovando took stimulants and sedatives to the scene from Nanaimo. A pulmotor, sparklet resuscitator and inhalator were dispatched from the Nanaimo mine rescue station.

CROWDS AT MINE HEAD

Crowds gathered at the mine head as the pumps were put in place and pipes laid to carry the water to safe drainage outside the workings. Cars streamed from Nanaimo and points many miles away as word of the disaster spread.

Wives and families of the entombed men huddled in pathetic groups among the curious, as long hours passed. There was only the hushed sound of voices and the angry swirl of water through the pipes.

Paint tapings heard by rescuers, who struggled past way down the slippery main slope, were the first indication any of the five prisoners had survived the first crash of water. For an hour the tapings ceased, but tension eased when they resumed again.

WALL CRUMBLED

The water swept into the bottom of the V-shaped slope at 1 p.m. (P.S.T.), when the wall between the Beban workings and the old Extension mine crumbled. Miners believed it came from one of the abandoned workings which honey-combed either side of the rotten hill where the Beban workings are located.

Joe Wilson, mine manager, said that the abandoned tunnels on either side had been studied before the new shaft was driven a year ago.

The slope leading from the outside to the place where the water surged in, is 300 feet long, and extends 100 feet upward toward the dead end on the other side of where the men were trapped.

Joe Shepherd, cousin of the young rope-rider, working above ground, fainted when he heard the rumble of falling rock.

FORMER ACCIDENTS

The accident occurred in the centre of Vancouver Island's coal mining district, where eight major accidents have claimed 324 lives during the past fifty years.

Five decades ago, on May 3, 1887, 148 miners died in an explosion which wrecked the first-operated mine at Nanaimo. The Extension shaft, from which water ran into the Beban Mine today, was shattered by an explosion in 1909 and thirty-two men were killed.

The last serious mining disaster occurred at nearby Cumberland, fourteen years ago. That accident took twenty-three lives.

Two of the other five major accidents were in Nanaimo. One in 1914 killed nineteen miners. The other, in 1917, killed five members of a survey party.

At Wellington, a few miles north of here, sixty men died in an explosion in 1889. Four years later a blast in the Union Colliery at Cumberland killed sixteen. A mine at South Wellington was flooded in 1915 and twenty-one miners were drowned.

That Body of Yours

(By James W. Barton, M.D.)

THE ABATEMENT OF NOISE SHOULD BE UNDER DEPARTMENT OF HEALTH

A few weeks ago I spoke of one of the short moving pictures in News of the World showing Professor H. E. Reilly, McGill University, measuring the amount of noise existing in various parts of Montreal. Dr. Reilly states that at a certain street intersection 97 per cent of the horn signals by automobiles were totally unnecessary; that is to say, that 97 per cent of the drivers were careless or thoughtless. Curbing this unnecessary honking is the first step toward sanity.

An editorial in The Canadian Medical Journal by its editor, Dr. A. G. Nicholls, entitled "Nasty Noises," states that while it may be admitted that a certain amount of noise may seem to be necessary in the business and industrial world, few will deny that much of it is unnecessary, annoying, and harmful. Most of us could draw up a fair list of objectionable noises. The following, classified as to causes, is sufficiently comprehensive:

Traffic: Trucks, buses, motorcycles, horns, brakes, cutouts, gears, defective brakes and mufflers, exhausts, whistles, rattling parts and loads, sirens, bells.

Homes: Radios, pianos, phonographs, musical instruments, late parties, dogs, cats, defective piping or plumbing.

Transportation: Street cars, delivery wagons, locomotives, brakes, steam and oil exhausts, whistles, bells.

Construction: Pneumatic drills and riveters, steam and gasoline hoists, steam shovels, plectrifiers, blasting, shouting, compressors, demolition of buildings.

Industry: Factories, foundries and mills.

River: Whistles, bells, shouting, steam winches, engines, foghorns and trucks.

Other street noises: Blaring radio and music stores, shouting peddlers, garages and taxi stands.

"As to health: Recently, the state of health as related to noise of some three hundred employees of a certain firm was investigated. After noise-reducing devices had been introduced into the building where they worked, the visits of the girls to the medical department were reduced from about twenty-five or thirty a day to six. The efficiency of the workers was increased 9 per cent."

You can see from the above that noise is not only a nuisance, and lessens working ability, but has a direct harmful effect upon health. It will not be long before the abatement of noise will quite properly be under the Department of Health in all communities.

How It Started

By JEAN NEWTON

"HOBSON'S CHOICE"
"Heads I win, tails you lose,"—a choice without an alternative—that is Hobson's choice.

This interesting phrase has been in our language upwards of 300 years.

The allusion is to the unique practice of one Thomas Hobson, who, in the 1630's, kept a livery stable at Cambridge, England.

When a customer wanted to hire a horse, the eccentric proprietor would invite him to make a round of the stalls and examine the horses with a view to selection.

Subsequently, he would announce that the horse nearest the stable door—and no other—would be set out.

"Ha! Ha!" Highman laughed. "You poor old henpecked! I saw you yesterday sewing a button on your coat. Ha! Ha!"

Henpecked looked dignified. "That you did not," he replied with some warmth.

Highman's face fell. "I tell you I did," he replied. "I saw you with my own eyes over the garden fence."

Henpecked gave a superior smile. "I tell you you didn't," he replied. "It was my wife's coat."

What did our Lord mean when He said: "Make to yourselves friends of the mammon of unrighteousness"? See Parable of the Unjust Steward—Luke xvi, 9.

What is the meaning of the book, "The Song of Solomon"? There being no mention of God in it, how is it deemed to be inspired, and what is its particular value?

The lesson-sermon also includes the following passage from the Christian Science textbook, "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures," by Mary Baker Eddy: "The divine Mind that made man maintains His own image and likeness. At the First Spiritualist Church, Sons of England Hall, at 7:30 tomorrow evening, the services will be conducted by Walter Holder. He will speak on "The Light That Shines in Darkness." The address will be followed by messages by Mrs. T. Allen. A solo will be sung by Mrs. Milne.

PROPHECY'S VALUE TO BE DISCUSSED

"Christ, Michael and the Great Red Dragon" is E. E. Richards' Monday Lecture Title

"Christ, Michael and the Great Red Dragon" will be the subject of E. E. Richards' address, to be given on Monday at 8 o'clock in the Campbell Building.

Mr. Richards will discuss the literal, symbolic and picturesque detail of the Revelation, with its application to the events of these days. The long sustained pressure by the dragon on the church and people of God, "The standing up of Michael and the Great Tribulation," and the final overthrow of Satan by the return of Christ in power and glory are factors which will be dealt with by the speaker. The practical value of prophecy to the man in the street will be exemplified.

SUNDAY'S LESSON

The International Sunday School lesson for tomorrow is on "Joseph's Readiness for Service," Genesis xli, 33-44. Golden text: "Seest thou a man diligent in his business? He shall stand before kings," Proverbs xxii, 29.

The Western Baptist Union, which is composed of the congregations in the Western Provinces and British Columbia, will meet in general convention in Regina, June 22-25.

The proposed constitution, under which a closer degree of co-operation among the provincial bodies may be effected, will be the main subject of discussion. Rev. Elbert Paul, Vancouver, will present the committee's report.

Anglican missions in Japan are reported to have increased during the past fifty years from twenty churches and no Japanese bishops or priests in 1887, to churches and preaching places numbering 300, with 230 Japanese bishops, priests and deacons. The Church of England in Canada shares in the missionary work in this country.

The Vatican organ, Observatore Romano, was in great demand at the time of the Coronation, because it was the only paper in Italy that carried news of this great event. The Vatican State, being independent of Italy, its press is free to carry news banned from all other papers by Premier Mussolini.

Baptists in China number 100,000. The work there was begun in 1836.

Leonard Captures Open Golf Honors With Card of 281

Vancouver Amateur Finishes Three Strokes Ahead Of Field at Jericho Course to Win P.N.W. Open Championship — Bud Ward and Freddy Wood Share Runner-Up Berth With 284

FREDDY WOOD

By LOCKLEY JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer.
JERICHO COUNTRY CLUB, VANCOUVER, June 11 (P.)—Stan Leonard, Vancouver amateur, licked the elements, par and the field over this tree-lined course today for a three-stroke victory in the Pacific Northwest open golf tournament and the title held last year by Emory Zimmerman, Portland, Ore.
Playing steady golf after his par-cracking round of yesterday, when he carded a 141 for thirty-six holes, Leonard ended on top with a seventy-two-hole total of 281, despite sensational performances by Bud Ward, Tacoma amateur, and Freddy Wood, Vancouver professional, who finished tied for second place with 284.
Leonard's performance was seven under the par of 288 for the four-circuit route.
Despite a driving rain which fell almost throughout the day, Leonard took a three-stroke lead on the field in the morning round with a card of 68, for a fifty-four-hole total of 209. He recorded a par 72 in the afternoon to hold this lead in face of a par-cracking course record round of 65 by Bud Ward in the morning and a pair of sub-par 69's during the day by Freddy Wood.
SHARE SECOND PLACE
Ward carded a 71 in the afternoon for a thirty-six-hole total of 136, which, added to his 148 of yesterday, gave him 284. Wood's pair of 69's gave him the same total and the position of low professional as well as his second-place tie.

Emory Zimmerman cracked par by two strokes in his morning round with a 70, but recorded a 73 in the afternoon as he found trouble on the rain-wet greens. His total added to 285 to give him undisputed fourth position.

Another Vancouver professional, veteran Don Sutherland, took fifth place as he marked up a morning round of 70 and an even par of 72 in the afternoon for a tournament total of 286.

Chuck Congdon, a Tacoma, Wash., professional, who tied with Stan Leonard for the lead in the tournament play yesterday, fell back to sixth position with a tournament total of 287, while Brian Hopkins, Vancouver amateur, who stood in third place at the end of the first thirty-six holes, finished seventh, putting together a 71-74 for a total of 285.

CANADIAN WILL FACE STARTER

George Pepper Entered in Greatest of All Motorcycle Events

DOUGLAS, Isle of Man, June 11 (P.)—A young Canadian, George Pepper, from Belleville, Ont., on Monday will challenge seasoned riders from England and Continental Europe in what is perhaps the greatest and most dangerous of all motorcycle races—the senior Tourist Trophy event round the rugged Isle of Man.

Pepper, at twenty-four, Canadian champion and holder of a North American record, is entered in all three Tourist Trophy events, the senior, intermediate and junior, but it is in the senior race that he will come up against the hardest competition round the sharp bends and over hump-backed ridges which make the course a supreme test of man and machine.

He will be in there with the almost invincible Englishmen, F. L. Frith, J. Guthrie and Dick White, whose Norton machines have all but monopolized the event in recent years; and with the daring Italian rider, Benito Tenuis, on his Guzzi bike, and the formidable German "NSU-BMW" team.

The races are of seven laps, each of nearly thirty-eight miles, totaling just over 246 miles along the roadside around the island and up and down Mount Snaefell.

Pepper has been racing for five years.

YOUNG PERTH GOLFER WINS CROWN EASILY

Jessie Anderson Captured British Title From Doris Park, 6 and 4

TURNBERRY, Scotland, June 11 (P.)—Jessie Anderson, twenty-two-year-old star from Perth, won the British women's golf championship today, defeating her Scottish compatriot, Doris Park, 6 and 4, in the thirty-six-hole final round.

The new champion, who succeeds Pamela Barton, of England, knocked out in an earlier round, has been knocking at the title door for some time. The last two years she gained the semi-final round. The girl she vanquished today is the Scottish champion.

SQUARE AT TURN

After finishing the morning round all square, Miss Park won the nineteenth hole, but Miss Anderson came back to square at the twentieth. They halved the twenty-first, but Miss Anderson then captured the next three holes in succession to take a lead Miss Park never could overcome.

Miss Anderson, daughter of Joe Anderson, who is professional at the Craigie Hill Club in Perth, played steadily throughout the hot afternoon. Miss Park, also, the daughter of a golfing professional, was thoroughly wild from the tee in the afternoon round. She was forced to play almost every second shot either from rough or a bunker.

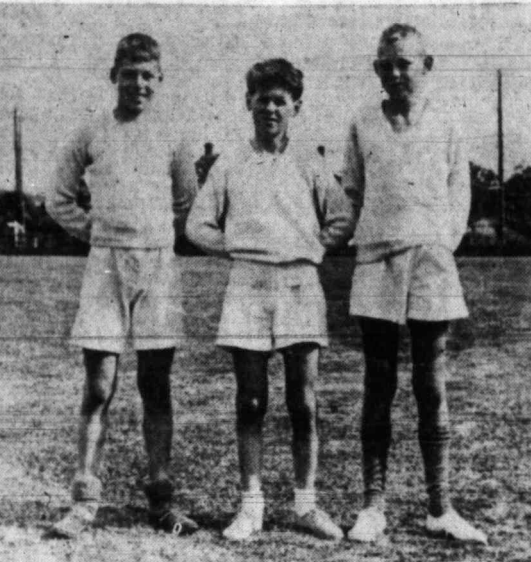

The new champion is a slight, slim girl with little indication of power. She is one of the coolest and most determined fighters in women's golf. She is a deadly putter. She was a member of the British Curtis Cup team of 1936 and it was a long putt she sank on the home green that enabled the home forces to tie the United States at that time.

With the Wests unable to field a team, today's Connaught Cup match with Victoria City has been called off. It is expected that the game will go to the City eleven by default, but final ruling will have to await word from J. R. Richardson, Secretary of the British Columbia Football Commission.

Won Honors for School

W. F. Pinckard, H. Buckley and J. F. Rowe, young track and field stars from Glenlyon Preparatory School, who captured the junior shield at the Oak Bay Schools' Athletic Association annual inter-school sports meet at Cranmore Road. Pinckard won the 100 and 220 yard sprints, and placed second in the broad jump. Buckley breasted the tape first in the 440 yards and Rowe took third place in the high jump, giving the school twelve points—four more than Monterey, who finished in second place.

Draw Released for City Golf Meet at Colwood Monday

Women Shotmakers Will Tee Off Next Week in Qualifying Round — Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, Uplands Club, Will Defend Crown

Over the tree-lined and well bunkered Royal Colwood course, with its smooth fairways and well-kept greens, will start a field of thirty golfers Monday afternoon in the eighteen-hole qualifying round of the annual women's city championship. Although not exceptionally large the quality is there and that means keen competition throughout the week. With past entries being accepted the field is expected to reach close to the forty mark.

Shouldering the burden from the opening day will be none other than the defending titlist, Miss Mary Mackenzie-Grieve, of Uplands Club, who won the crown last year from her clubmate, Miss Dorothy Fletcher, on her home links. It was on the Colwood course about five years ago that Miss Mackenzie-Grieve crashed through to her first city title, going of the nineteenth to defeat Mrs. Sayward-Wilson as the rain came down in torrents.

TWO FAVORITES

Fresh from her recent victory in the British Columbia championship at Oak Bay, Mrs. E. Jackson, Uplands Club, will probably be the most feared contender in the field.

The new provincial titleholder played smart golf at Oak Bay and if she continues the same methodical game at Colwood she will be mighty hard to beat. Yesterday she carded an 86 in a practice round. Then there is Mrs. S. Enke, Gorge Vale Club, who was runner-up to Mrs. J. Hutchinson three years ago in the British Columbia tournament. She will be one of the favorites as she is hitting her shots well, having a smart 80 in a practice round yesterday.

Others who must be seriously considered are Miss Dorothy Fletcher, the Hodgson sisters, Peggy and Phyllis; Mrs. Art Dowell, Mrs. H. G. Mackenzie, Mrs. James McIlraith, Mrs. James MacFarlane, Mrs. Zoe Huse and Mrs. Hew Patterson.

MONDAY'S DRAW

Draw and starting times follow:
1:00—Mrs. E. Jackson (Uplands) and Mrs. Hew Patterson (Oak Bay).
1:05—Miss Mackenzie-Grieve (Uplands) and Mrs. S. Enke (Gorge Vale).
1:10—Miss Peggy Hodgson (Colwood) and Mrs. A. Dowell (Colwood).

Germans, Czechos Certain to Meet In Tennis Final

LONDON, June 11 (P.)—Germany and Czechoslovakia, it appeared tonight, are almost certain to clash in the final round of European zone Davis Cup tennis competition. Germany's singles stars, Baron Gottfried von Cramm and Heinrich Henkel, gave the Teutons a 2-0 lead over Belgium in the opening matches of their semi-final round series at Berlin today. Roderich Menzel and Ladislav Hecht, meanwhile, achieved a similar edge for Czechoslovakia over Jugoslavia at Praha. Henkel whipped Andre Lacroix, 6-1, 6-1, 6-1, while von Cramm upset Charles Naysert, 6-3, 6-0, 6-4. The Czech stars likewise won in straight sets at Praha. Menzel defeated Josef Pallada, 6-2, 6-1, 6-0, and Hecht defeated Ferenc Puncoc, 7-5, 6-2, 6-3.

THOMSON'S GREAT 66 FEATURE OF SECOND DAY'S PLAY IN EAST

Long-Driving Shawnee-On-Delaware Professional Breaks Course Record With Sensational Card To Go Into Deadlock at Halfway Mark With Guldahl, Walsh and Dudley

By ALAN GOULD
Associated Press Sports Editor.

BIRMINGHAM, Mich., June 11 (P.)—Cracking the Oakland Hills competitive record with a 66, six under par, and equalling the all-time low mark for a single round in the United States open golf championship, blond Jimmy Thomson, the siege gun from Shawnee-on-Delaware, Pa., climaxed an epic day by entering a four-way tie for the lead at the halfway stage of the tournament.

Thomson's dazzling round, marked by six birdies and one eagle, gave him a thirty-six-hole total of 140, and completed the pace-making deadlock with three professional rivals, Ralph Guldahl and Frank Walsh, of Chicago, and big Ed Dudley, of Philadelphia.

Guldahl, on the verge of a record smashing round himself before Thomson provided the day's crowning shot-making thrills, added a three-under-par 69 to his previous 71. Walsh and Dudley, playing together, duplicated their first round 70's.

CANADIAN QUALIFIES

Jimmy Johnstone, Toronto pro, was the only Canadian to qualify for the final thirty-six holes. With 75-76-151, he made the grade by one stroke, joining sixty-four others. Only the low sixty and ties were permitted to enter the last half of the seventy-two-hole grind.

Bob Gray, Jr., of Sandwich, Ont., with 78-81-159, and Sam Kerr, of Toronto, with 77-81-158, were eliminated.

Thomson lost his touch on the greens after wielding a red hot putter for fifteen holes, during which he dropped a half dozen putts of six to twenty feet for birdies, in addition to making a single putt for an eagle three on the 553-yard twelfth. With the touch went his chances of hanging up a new world scoring record for major open championship. He missed putts of six and three feet on two of the closing holes.

Thomson's round tied the best on record in forty-one years of United States title play, including 66's for Gene Sarazen in 1932, Johnny Goodman and Walter Hagen in 1933 and Tom Creavy in 1934.

The Scottish born pro clipped three shots off the Oakland Hills competitive mark, which had stood at 69 during nearly two complete days of the wildest scoring this tournament ever had witnessed.

LEAD BY TWO STROKES

With the pace-making quartette out in front by two strokes and a total of fourteen shotmakers, including three amateurs, bunched within five shots of each other at the halfway stage, it was still a wide open scramble for the title slipping from the grasp of Dapper Tony Manero. The defending champion was trailing by nine full shots, with 76-73-149 for his two days' work.

Chief among the casualties were Tommy Armour, Chicago's "Silver Scot," who tallied a 79 today for a total of 157, and W. Lawson Little, the former amateur king from San Francisco, who blew himself out of the tournament, with an 83 for 158. Bunched on the heels of Thomson, Guldahl, Dudley and Walsh was another sharpshooting quartette. The group at 142 comprised Slamm'n' Sam Sneed, of White Sulphur Springs, W.Va.; Frankie Strafaci, twenty-one-year-old Brooklyn public links star; Light-horse Harry Cooper, of Chicago, still one of the hottest betting choices, and Pat Sawyer, Minneapolis professional.

Zeke Bonura Leads White Sox to Easy Win Over Senators

Heavy-Hitting First Baseman Drives in Five Runs With a Homer, Two Doubles and a Single—DiMaggio Paces Yanks to 10-0 Victory

CHICAGO, June 11 (AP).—They gave Zeke Bonura an automobile as Chicago's "most popular player" today, and the big first baseman showed his appreciation by banging out four hits, driving in five runs and leading the White Sox to a 14-8 victory over the Washington Senators. The fans voted Zeke the city's outstanding performer for May, and the automobile was the prize.

His homer, two doubles and a single, and Luke Appling's double and three singles set the pace for the season's biggest two-club clouting spree as the Sox found Monte Weaver and two other Nat pitchers for seventeen hits and Washington walloped Johnny Whitehead for thirteen. Four Washington hits were contributed by Buddy Lewis, one of them a homer in the ninth. Although they counted seven runs in the last four frames, the Senators never had a chance to catch up.

Victoria Awarded Swimming Trials By Canadian Body

VANCOUVER, June 11 (AP).—Trials to select the Canadian swimming teams to the British Empire games in Australia next year were awarded entirely to Victoria by the British Columbia Amateur Swimming Association here tonight. They will be held December 10.

The trials had previously been awarded to British Columbia by the Canadian Amateur Swimming Association.

It was first considered splitting the events with half to be held here and the remainder in Victoria, but the British Columbia association tonight decided to hold them all in the Vancouver Island city, which boasts better facilities.

Immediately after the trials the Canadian contingent will be named and leave for Melbourne, where the Empire games will be held.

GIANTS TRADE FITZSIMMONS

Veteran Pitcher Goes to Brooklyn for Tom Baker in Latest Deal

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP).—Brooklyn Dodgers today traded Tom Baker, twenty-two-year-old right hander, to New York Giants for Fred Fitzsimmons, veteran hurler, and a sum of money not announced.

Fitzsimmons, thirty-five years old, joined the Giants in 1925, coming up from Indianapolis, of the American Association. He won ten and lost seven last year, but has not been able to get started this season. While winning two and losing the same number, he has pitched only one complete game, holding the Dodgers to five hits in that encounter.

Baker, who celebrated his twenty-second birthday, came to the Dodgers from Allentown, of the New York-Penn. League, at the start of the 1935 season. He won only one and lost eight games. This year he has failed to win a game and was charged with one defeat.

PARIS, Ont., June 11 (AP).—Sylvanus Apps, ace rookie of the National Hockey League last winter, received the President Frank Calder Trophy tonight before a crowd of hockey fans in the Paris rink, where he learned the game.

As Calder, president of the N.H.L., extolled the qualities of the "Pride of Paris," Apps, forward for Toronto Maple Leafs, blushed and looked uneasy.

NEW YORK, June 11 (AP).—George Jacobus, president of the United States Professional Golfers' Association, today received confirmation from England of a "world championship" seventy-two-hole match between Henry Cotton, crack British pro, and an American representative yet to be selected by the P.G.A.

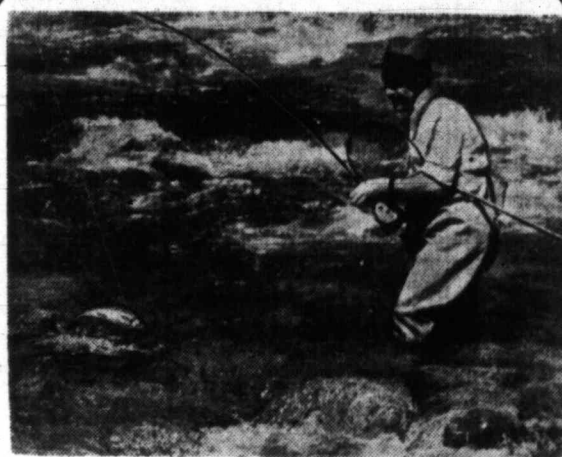

The contest, on a match play basis, will be held after the United States-British Ryder Cup team matches, scheduled for Southampton, England, on June 29 and 30.

Confirmation of the match came from Sir Emalie Carr, chairman of The News of the World, which is putting up a prize of £500 (approximately $2,470).

THE TUTTS... By Crawford Young

Jane Dixon Says:

ROUND-UP DAY PRESENTS: THE TROUBLES OF A MAN IN LOVE WITH A WOMAN WHO HAS A ROVING EYE—THE REACTIONS TO PARENTAL DISAPPROVAL OF A GIRL'S MATRIMONIAL CHOICE—A WOMAN, DESPERATELY IN NEED OF WORK, WHO HESITATES ABOUT ACCEPTING A JOB BECAUSE THE SALARY IS SMALL—THE DESPAIR OF A WOMAN WHOSE HUSBAND SPENDS ALL HIS TIME AT HOME READING—A YOUNG MAN WHO IS AFRAID HE CAN'T HOLD THE INTEREST OF THE GIRL HE LOVES BECAUSE HE DOESN'T OWN AN AUTOMOBILE

Round-Up, and I hope you are as curious as I am to see what it has to offer.

William Brown: You have been going with a girl for two years, and your marriage has been planned for the latter part of this year. Two weeks ago she met a man she says she loves, but not as much as she loves you. She thinks maybe it is an infatuation, but she sees him continually, you occasionally. She is not in love with you. Tell her to go ahead with her infatuation, but that you have signed off. You don't want to go through life nursing the vagrant fancies of a woman who can't make up her mind about such an important subject as love, do you? If she decides you are the right one after all, forgive and forget this time, but make up your mind, and make it clear to her, that the next lapse will eliminate you from her life completely.

E.G.: No doubt the poor boy does love you as he has avowed, but his empty pockets have made him sensitive, and he is reluctant to pursue the subject of marriage in the face of your father's opposition. Parental disapproval brings various reactions, according to the character and the temperament of the one against whom it is directed. One will resent. Another will defy. Still another will withdraw into himself and nurse a secret wound. If you are certain you love the young man enough to "live his life" and be happy and helpful in the living, encourage him to return to the marriage subject and tell your father you have made your own decision.

Miriam: You are desperately in need of work. Take the job offered even though the salary is not up to the standard you have fixed for yourself. It is always easier to increase your earnings from something than it is to raise them from nothing. Take what the gods provide and be thankful you can be an earner instead of a pensioner.

Disgusted Wife: Your husband spends his evenings at home, but behind a magazine, a paper or a book. You've tried everything from tears to battle, but you can't make a companion out of a "bookworm." Why not take up reading, yourself? Get some good magazines and when your husband hies himself into the silence do thou likewise. Perhaps he'll take the hint and be less selfish about his interest. Even if he doesn't, good literature is a better companion than tears and will win you more victories than battle.

Jack Q.: You fear you cannot hold the girl you love without a car and you can't afford a car. She says she's tired of accepting other people's invitations to go driving with them, knowing you can't return the favor.

If a car is necessary to her happiness, what's to prevent her from getting one herself? Lots of girls earn their own. Do not apologize for your inability to afford a car. Simply state that you hope to improve your present financial condition.
